

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

It took the B. F. Paly in the second primary. Two more in all my life seen the tide turn like it has within the past few weeks. Paly seems to be gaining strength throughout the entire state. Not only in his home county—where he naturally expects well-supported support—have the voters shown their preference for Paly but all over the state. I am predicting to-day that B. F. will be in the second primary. I don't know who his opponent will be but my guess is Palm Beach county will have a candidate in there when the ballots are counted.

I attended a dinner in Clewiston the other night and had the pleasure of meeting a lot of old friends. Some of them were politicians. I naturally thought they might have forgotten me since my name was clipped two years ago when a young gentleman from Belle Glade took my measure. But, much to my surprise, I met the boys still remembered me. That's something to say the least.

I had the pleasure of meeting for the first time a man who is giving up politics. Congressman Milford Caldwell of Milton, Fla., among those present at the dinner. I met him I felt genuine sorry that he isn't going back to congress. He tells me that he has decided to turn over the reins to his son. He doesn't beat around the bush about it. And that's what we need more of. Men who aren't afraid to tell the boys what they stand for and then stand for it.

Secretary of State R. A. Gray, State Superintendent Colin English, and State Secretary of Agriculture Nathan Mayo, were present. None of these gentlemen have any opposition in the forthcoming primary election. Some folks are of the opinion that they should be re-elected to their respective offices without opposition. I can't help but sit here and hope that all three of them get by without opposition.

Political rumormongers in Palm Beach county lead me to believe that the lid is going to pop off most any time now.

Council Attends Routine Matters

The bid is being opened by the Glades Chevrolet Company, of the cab over engine type, for $1,181.60. The dump body from the Jacksonville Wheel and Tire Co., Jacksonville, for $365.00.

It's Leap Year You Know! Pahokee Woman's Club Will Stage Party

It's going to be a wow! That Leap Year party scheduled for next Wednesday night at the Pahokee Woman's Club. You'll enjoy every minute of the entertainment. You'll also enjoy the refreshments.

But—You must be accompanied by a partner. So, look around, do your best, and be present when the fun starts. Each lady attending must invite a man and bring him to the party.

Mack Parker, unattached blade of Pahokee, has accepted an invitation to be present. He probably doesn't know what the fun is all about, but he has scheduled for him but will find out Wednesday night. To let you in on a little secret, Mack is going to get a temporary taste of matrimony.

The judges are as yet unknown to the participants and will render a secret ballot on the winner. The judges are to be men and have requested that their decisions be made in secrecy. What A Whale Of A Difference A Few Years Make Here

Telephone Listings Show Fast Growth In Five Year Period

One never realizes just how fast the Lake Okechobee farming section is growing until some concrete evidence is presented. Telephone listings are a very good barometer to prove or disprove facts concerning the growth of any community.

Five years ago last fall there were 125 telephones listed in the Pahokee directory. Today there are 290. There is a preponderance of fact evidence that the Pahokee-Canal Point territory has steadily grown during the past 60 months.

Five years ago in Belle Glade there were only 83 phones connected through the local exchange. Today there are 196. Which also proves that the territory served by Belle Glade is undergoing changes of importance as it concerns growth and influx of new families and businesses.

There is one man in the Lake Okechobee who can tell you instantly where every telephone is located. He is none other than D. P. Farmer, who became the Southern Bell Telephone company's first of November, 1934. Mr. Farmer has rounded out 33 years in the telephone business and is still going strong. We often wonder how he finds enough hours in a day to attend to all the things that he does. Always on the alert to give the very best of service, he has proved to be an efficient representative of the company.

Operetta Enjoyed At Auditorium

The Pahokee high school club presented an entertaining and timely operetta, "Hawaii," at the school auditorium. The play, "Love Prizes of Hawaii," was set in the garden of a girl's school in Hawaii. A group of girls sang many beautiful Hawaiian songs, while a chorus of boys took the part of the native boys.

Confession Of A Candidate

Lost 1249 hours sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one year, one month and five sheep to a county barbecue. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, each with thirteen baby rattlers, knitted 128 babies, knitted four thousand ribbers, put up four thousand, walked 4,000 miles, shook hands with 9,000 persons, told 10,011 lies and talked enough to make in print 1,000 volumes. Attended sixteen revival meetings and was baptized four different times by immersion, and twice some other way. Contributed $50 to foreign missions and made $10 to nine grass widows. Hugged 49 old maids. Got dog-bit thirty-nine times, and was defeated.

Transient Refuses Cash When Visits Locates A Friend

Canal Point Pastor Tells Of Unusual Happening During Week

An amusing incident occurred today that uncovers a deep truth. It is this: As I left the church to go to the office today, I met a young man about 24 years of age. He accosted me timidly and asked if I would give him something to eat, that he was without money and hungry. I replied that I thought I could give him a breakfast.

"That's fine," he said, and I supplied meals to worthy transients who would work for a meal. He had done wonders for him as he came turning the door after doing the task assigned. As he turned to go on his way he pulled out a pig tag and pocket and returned it to me with the statement: "I found this tag. I did not know was here. I was looking for it. So that was the reason he was in high spirits. Then he offered him some cash for the tag. I thought he was penniless, he refused to take it, saying, 'I was glad to see the pig tag. When I presented his card and told me he was a machinist belonging to two Unions, but before he found his tag he said, 'I am just a laborer.'"

Finding a friend does change the way you look at the world. It is of material worth. Making a friend means more than a breakfast in the time of need. It means a hand to hold in life. Breakfast, dinner and supper for the whole family year in and year out. Finding a friend gives a man a pig tag and a zeal as it did to Robinson Crusoe on the lonely island when he found his slave friend Friday. Crusoe needed a friend so very much, but Friday needed one more for he was fleeing from the cannibals who sought to eat a big man. Now they found mutual shelter and aid and comforts in each other.

Sugar Company Head Deals Out Facts At Annual Dinner In Clewiston Tues.

Guests of Clarence R. Bittling, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, heard him quote the facts as now entered by the federal department of agriculture at a dinner Tuesday night given annually in honor of the performance of duty of the sugar industry. The prizes were awarded to workers in the eastern and western divisions of the organization.

Preceding the president's dinner a "concert" was held on the lawn where a recently formed "orchestra" of young men played. A group of colored singers gathered from the sugar company plantations, entertained the guests.

During the dinner hour Miss Ruth Bartlett entertained the group with a number of songs, accompanied by piano. Mr. Bittling's address in its entirety. There is an old saying that it is easier to give than to receive. True all our troubles should be back of us. Within a period of thirty days three troubles have been back of us. To learn of one of our troubles I had to talk to sugar producers of other areas. From the production of sugar.

Cone Tells State Road Group To Aid Farm Market Move

Markets Are Valuable Contribution To State's Welfare

Tallahassee, Feb. 22.—The State Road Department was instructed today by Governor F. P. Cone to render every assistance possible to the construction and improvement of Farmers' State Markets.

"The value of these markets to the state is incalculable," Governor Cone said. "Under the direction of Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture, the state is to be equipped with Florida without imposing any extra taxes upon the people. They are scattered throughout the state where they are convenient to the farmers and are operated upon a non-profit basis."

"The markets bring the farmer and the purchaser together on an equal footing. The man with one hamper of vegetables or one bushel of fruit can find a ready sale for his small amount of produce as can the man with a carload. The managers of the market keep informed of market conditions and are able to advise farmers on market conditions, which gives them an even break with the buyers who are in constant touch with conditions."

"The types of markets are designed to meet the needs of each community. Some are livestock markets, some are tobacco and other farm products, and others are for general merchandise. They are being built in connection with markets and to provide a place for the sale of produce, but which are kept open to all farmers in the surrounding territory, giving them an outlet for their produce which otherwise would not be available."

"While the markets are substantial, they are not extravagant. They are built on a plan which gives access to railroad and other means of transportation, and can be done more economically and efficiently than any other type of market."

In a deal completed recently George Mead became proprietor of the electrical appliance store in Pahokee, formerly operated by Claude Padgett. The concern, the future will be known as Pioneer Appliances since it is one of the oldest in the Glades. The concern was organized years ago by Charles Stibel and operated by Mr. Padgett.

Mr. Mead needs no introduction to the residents of the Glades since he has been in the plumbing business in Pahokee for many years. His store at Belle Glade will be in the store until he returns to his home in the north in June.

The store will continue to handle George Mead's appliances. The line of everything electrical will be stocked at all times and Mr. Mead extends a cordial invitation to all his friends to visit the new place of business. It is located next door to the Tasty Sandwich Shop.

Mr. Padgett will continue in the electrical wiring business. The state arranged last week to pay $1,007,495, or 75 percent of a full month's allotment, on its sugar participation. The amount now is $1,850,945 in arrears. Most of the money represented in last week's allotment came from the sale of auto tags.

Belle Glade Pastor Resigns After 4 Yrs.

Dr. W. Marion Sentell, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Belle Glade for the past four years presented his resignation to the local congregation at the close of the morning services Sunday, stating that he wanted to accept a call to another field. The resignation was not accepted by the church, but was referred to the board of deacons for consideration. Before coming to Belle Glade Dr. Sentell held successful pastorates in the leading churches of his denomination in Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Georgia. Since coming here he has led his church in building a nice modern pastor's home and one of the most modern and most beautiful church buildings in this section of the state. During the time he has served the local church he has served into its membership two hundred and six members which brings the present membership to two hundred and forty-eight. No announcement was made as to his plans for the future, but it is understood that he expects to enter another pastorate in another Florida city as soon as the church here accepts his resignation.
